PROFILE

With over 1 year of developing “front and back”, I have a passion for producing “products” that bring my clients ideas to life. I love working in a collaborative manner with clients in order to develop the best possible website. Armed with over 3 years of education in computer programming and web design, I discovered my passion for this line of work from my computer programming experience. I find the most satisfying part of my job is the reaction I get from a happy client.
